

PRINCIPAL'S MESSAGE FOR STUDENTS

In the wake of the emergence of a new CoVid variant (Omicron), we're now entering another short period of the 'Online Teaching Learning Methods.' Students should, now, learn to independently take the responsibility of being on time for class, wearing uniform throughout the class, completing and submitting assignments on time and above all, should maintain the discipline and integrity of the class. They must also actively participate in all the extra-scholastic events.

Mark that now onwards, students will be awarded attendance only if they attend all the periods with their videos duly kept on throughout the class.

At the end, health is equally important than your studies. Students must avoid moving out unnecessarily and shall follow all the CoVid related norms with seriousness. They shall also follow a healthy diet.
